

Ambassador Sherly G. Boisrond

PHILANTHROPIST • HUMANITARIAN • GLOBAL PEACE AMBASSADOR • SPIRITUAL DIPLOMAT •
HUMAN RIGHTS ADVOCATE • INTERNATIONAL SPEAKER

Compassion in Action.
Humanity Without Borders.
Peace for All.

OFFICIAL BIOGRAPHY

Introduction

Ambassador Sherly G. Boisrond is a philanthropist, humanitarian, Global Peace Ambassador, Spiritual Diplomat, human rights advocate, community leader, nonprofit executive, international speaker, and healthcare education professional whose life and leadership are rooted in service, compassion, peace, and the empowerment of others.

Guided by the belief that compassion must be transformed into action, Ambassador Boisrond has dedicated her life to advancing peace, protecting human dignity, empowering youth, strengthening communities, and creating opportunities for underserved and vulnerable populations.

A Philosophy of Philanthropy

Her philosophy of philanthropy extends far beyond financial giving. She believes that everyone has something meaningful to contribute, whether through time, knowledge, resources, influence, mentorship, opportunity, advocacy, or compassionate service.

For her, philanthropy is ultimately about using what we have to uplift others and create meaningful, lasting change.

Society In Action, Inc.

As President and Chief Executive Officer of Society In Action, Inc., Ambassador Boisrond has championed humanitarian outreach, community engagement, cultural unity, youth empowerment, peacebuilding, and initiatives that bring people together through service.

04 ———

Peace and Diplomacy

As a Global Peace Ambassador and Spiritual Diplomat, she advocates for a world where dialogue replaces division, compassion overcomes indifference, human dignity is protected, and leaders use their influence to serve humanity.

Her work promotes peacebuilding, global cooperation, transformative leadership, youth development, human rights, and sustainable development.

05 ———

Youth Empowerment

A passionate advocate for young people, Ambassador Boisrond believes that youth are not simply the leaders of tomorrow. They are leaders and agents of positive change today.

Through mentorship, education, humanitarian engagement, leadership development, and public speaking, she encourages young people to discover their voices, embrace their potential, and lead with integrity, compassion, courage, and purpose.

06 ———

Professional Leadership

Professionally, Ambassador Boisrond brings extensive experience in Graduate Medical Education, healthcare administration, human resources, program management, leadership development, and organizational improvement.

She serves as the Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Residency Program Coordinator at SUNY Downstate Health Sciences University, bringing the same philosophy of service-centered leadership to her professional work.

Recognition

Her dedication to humanitarian service, community leadership, professional excellence, diversity, equity, inclusion, peacebuilding, and advocacy has earned her numerous awards, citations, proclamations, and distinguished recognitions.

For Ambassador Boisrond, these honors represent far more than personal achievement. They carry a responsibility to continue serving, advocating, empowering, and creating opportunities for others. She believes that recognition should never be the destination. It should become a platform for greater service.

A Life of Purpose

Her humanitarian, philanthropic, diplomatic, professional, and community leadership experiences are united by one guiding principle: leadership is not defined by the titles we hold, but by the lives we touch and the difference we make.

Whether addressing an international summit, mentoring a young person, supporting humanitarian initiatives, advocating for human dignity, strengthening communities, or bringing people together across cultural and national boundaries, she strives to transform compassion into meaningful action.

Her vision is a world where humanity transcends borders, generosity creates opportunity, young people are empowered to lead, human dignity is protected, communities are strengthened, and peace becomes a shared responsibility.